CHANGES IN MANAGEMENT

Thomas Kissner

New COO

Dr. Andreas Grund

Advisory Board of GCPS

Dr. Andreas Beust

New CEO

From 1st July 2022, GCP-Service welcomed a new CEO, Dr. Andreas Beust. He most recently held the position of Chief Scientific Officer and now succeeds Dr. Andreas Grund, the company's founder, who handed over his CEO role after 18 years.

After completing his PhD, Andreas Beust, also known to the GCPS Team as Andi, began his career at GCP-Service in 2017. Starting as a biostatistician and data manager, he progressed through a variety of positions.

During this time, Andreas Beust has been instrumental in further strengthening the GCP-Service brand, advancing and developing the services, particularly in the area of biostatistics and their pivotal role in clinical trial planning and conduct.

We are incredibly pleased that he will now be contributing his incredible knowledge, his never-ending passion and his innovative ideas in this new position and look forward to the future together.

SPONSORSHIP AS A SERVICE®

With the recent releases of ICH E6 (R2), ISO14155:2020, MDR and IVDR, the European clinical research space has seen an increase in regulatory complexity of clinical trials that leads some companies to question the feasibility of trial conduct as Sponsor. This may be due to several reasons, such as lack of:

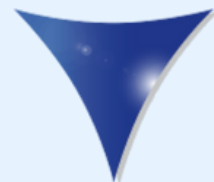

- Knowledge of regulatory Requirement
- Compliant Quality Management (QM) System
- Manpower to keep sponsor oversight
- Clinical trial management tools and software solutions
- Qualified personnel.

GCP-Service would like to ensure that these hindrances do not lead to market exclusion of excellent medical devices or medicinal products. Therefore, we offer to take over the sponsor responsibilities for companies for their clinical trials.

With more than 18 years of clinical trial experience, GCP-Service is happy to take over the responsibilities many organizations feel they are unable to do.

Our motto: When it comes to regulatory requirements, patient's safety and rights, there is no longer room for trial-and-error approach anymore. Our approach is to do it the right way the first time.

GCPS INVESTS IN MEDICAL DEVICE STARTUP COMPANIES

2022 continues to be a ground-breaking year for GCPS as it ventures beyond its core CRO business.

In March 2022, GCP-Service invested in a small medical device startup company focussing on skin diseases through e-health technologies. We have always believed in innovating products that leverage patient health and quality of life, hence we look forward to this development and more in the wide world of medical technology and medicinal products!

The advantage is obvious: especially young manufacturers need support in setting up their operations in a regulatory requirement compliant way, and to navigate the path to market entry. Additionally, they need support financially organisationally and in terms of strategic concepts. Closer cooperation in this area ultimately produces fruitful results for both sides.

From now on, GCP-Service supports them in a renewed role, so that their ground-breaking ideas do not fall by the wayside but becomes a successful model.

GCPs OFFERS FREE WEB SEMINARS

Web seminars are on everyone's lips. They are a way of presenting content in real time to an audience digitally and at the same time come into contact with people from all over the world. In the last two decades, we have experienced that the entry into clinical research is associated with high hurdles for many manufacturers. But we also want to share our knowledge: the more we talk about how we feel things should work and what our own lessons learned are, the more the quality of our work increases and the more the patients benefit from better treatments being developed in a faster and higher quality manner.

We have had various experts - including the new CEO, Dr. Andreas Beust, our new Chief Operating Officer, Thomas Kissner, Head of Quality Assurance, Petra Stepankova, Chief Interface Officer, Dr. Marco Schwarzer and Regulatory Affairs Manager, Dr. Alexandra Ortiz Rodriguez, dive into crucial topics providing useful and interesting insights into their expertise.

From risk-based monitoring and quality management to data management or audit and inspection readiness, IVDs and more, various mosaic stones of clinical trials were included.

And GCP-Service is not finished yet. The next ideas and topics are already in the pipeline for the second half of the year. So look forward to it and check out the latest news on our website!
